Landscaping and Maintenance

We are very fortunate to live in a neighborhood where so many take such great care of their properties. The warm months are great for tackling those big projects on your list. When you are scheduling maintenance, please be sure to notify your neighbors of anything that may effect them such as along property lines. There have been some occasions when, in complete innocence, we have had neighbors' plantings and trees damaged by paint, stain, pest treatments and fertilizers that are sprayed past the property line. Allowing our neighbors the courtesy of a heads-up in these occasions allows them to cover any vulnerable plants. And, remember, liquids being sprayed inside your fenced yard tend to find their way to the other side of the fence.

Also remember that it is always worth the extra cost to have a surveyor confirm your property lines before installing a new fence. Many neighbors have learned this lesson the hard way and the Board encourages residents to take this step to ensure correct installation the first time.

Snow Events

In the future, the Board will send out emails prior to snow events asking those who need assistance to make their needs known to us. We make no promises and the Board of Directors is not getting in to the snow removal business, but we will do what we can to match up those who need help with someone who is willing and able to provide it.

Cleaning Up After Your Dog

It's dog walking season again, and that means it's dog poop season again. Every responsible dog owner agrees: picking up after your dog is a MUST. No matter where or when it occurs, there is NO excuse for not scooping the poop. So, here are ten reasons why EVERY dog owner MUST be responsible for picking up EVERY TIME.

1. It's common courtesy. Cleaning up after your dogs shows respect for our neighbors and our community. Only irresponsible dog owners leave their dog's poop for others to look at, step in or clean up.
2. Dog poop is unhealthy. Abandoned dog poop can host diseases and/or parasites which can infect other dogs who come into contact with it, or be transmitted to people who accidentally step in it and track it home. Particularly at risk, of course, are children who play outside and come in contact with the poop.
3. Dog poop bio-degrades slowly. Some people think it's okay to leave dog poop because it will break down naturally; however, the biodegradation process is very slow and, especially in places where the dog population is high, abandoned dog poop can accumulate faster than it breaks down.
4. It's not fertilizer. In fact, poop impedes landscaping efforts. Leaving dog poop encourages other dogs to mark that spot (by urinating over the previous dog's scent): poop left on the grass contributes to the problem of "nitrogen burn."
5. Dog Poop pollutes the water. Dog feces, like any feces, contains high levels of nutrients, like nitrogen and phosphorus, which actually pollute the water. Cleaning up after your dog is environmentally responsible. And please don't dispose of dog poop in storm drains: storm drains are a direct conduit to our water system!
6. Dog Poop is unsightly. Everybody knows that. It's disgusting. Pick it up. We all deserve to live in a clean community where we can be proud and step lightly.
7. Dog Poop tops the list of complaints against dogs. More than dog aggression, nuisance barking or unsupervised dogs, most complaints against dogs are about people not cleaning up after their dogs.
8. Dog Poop makes all dog owners look bad. Every time you don't pick up after your dog, you are giving one more reason for others to dislike dogs and dog owners.
9. Your actions set an example for others. When you pick up after your dog, you are part of the solution! And your actions will help convey the message that it's the right thing to do. Your actions will encourage others to do the same, and soon, this will be a non-issue, because everybody will simply pick up without giving it a second thought.
10. Lawn care is everyone's responsibility. Just because your dog goes to the bathroom on the grass close to the street, does not mean that is not someone's yard. They have to mow and maintain all areas, and they should not have to pick up your dog's poop to maintain their own yard.

It's up to each of us to do our part in keeping Raven Pointe clean and poop-free. Make sure you carry bags with you.

Renting/Leasing Homes

In the interest of community awareness, the Board of Directors of RPHOA has decided to provide clarity on the rental restriction contained in the Deed of Dedication that governs property rights in Raven Pointe. This is being provided at a time when, to the Board's knowledge, no homeowner is renting any property in violation of Article VII, Use, Restrictions and Covenants. The Board sought the views of legal counsel and have been advised as to the following:

Paragraph 1, Article VII, Raven Pointe Deed of Dedication provides: All Lots shall be used for single-family residential purposes only." (Emphasis added.)

The applicable Frederick County zoning regulations define a single-family dwelling as "A structure, not including mobile homes, arranged or designed to be occupied by one household." § 165-101.02

B. Definitions & word usage.

There is no prohibition in the Deed of Dedication on renting out an entire residence to a single family. The restriction applies only to renting part of the residence to individuals who are not part of the same family. The Board intends to enforce this restriction while recognizing that special circumstances may arise, such as where a medical or service provider may require housing. The Board has the power to decide against enforcement in certain circumstances without waiving the right to do so in the future. If there are any questions about any of this, the homeowners should submit those questions to the Board in writing for further consideration.
